

Jon Williams

Bachelor of Arts in Digital Technology and Culture

 Resume

Project Name

This would be an excellent place for a description to go. You can explain your project, talk about things you learned, stuff you're proud of. This is a talking point that could come up in an interview. Talk about why this is awesome, and don't try to be modest - This is your portfolio!

Another Project

This would be an excellent place for a description to go. You can explain your project, talk about things you learned, stuff you're proud of. Items placed in the middle of sites tend not to come up in interviews as much - on mobile, this will be neither the first or last item, so you can sorta 'hide' something here if that makes sense.

Third Project

This would be an excellent place for a description to go. You can explain your project, talk about things you learned, stuff you're proud of. Interviewers love to ask about the first and the last items on your resume or portfolio site, and this is your last item, so finish strong and make it something awesome!